

A CASE OF LOCKJAW

That is Puzzling the Physicians of Atlantic City.

THE PATIENT MAY GET WELL.

The Affliction is Usually Fatal in Eight Days, but This Sufferer's Jaws Have Been Rigid for Fourteen Days—Doctors Hold Out Hopes of His Recovery.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 20.—A remarkable case of lockjaw has been exciting the great interest of physicians in this city and has caused them to hunt through their books for precedents. In fact, almost every doctor in the county is taking an interest in the case, as it is said to be the first of its kind that has ever come directly under their notice.

The patient is a young German, Frederick Falter, about twenty-two years old, who has for a fortnight suffered in the clutches of the dread disease. For the last thirteen days nearly every muscle of his body has been rigid and drawn to such a tension that he has been unable to lie in a natural position.

Should he survive another day the physicians in attendance think they will be able to save his life, which, upon the authority of a leading practitioner, would be the second case on record in the United States to his knowledge.

STEEPED ON AN UPRIGHT NAIL. Falter was in the employ of John S. Taylor, a baker, and while at work he accidentally stepped upon an upturned nail, which deeply penetrated the flesh of the foot. At the time he took but little heed of the wound and merely put a bandage about his foot. In a few days the wound healed and the accident was forgotten.

According to his statement it was about ten days after he had stepped upon the nail that the poison began to manifest itself in his system. He first experienced a slight stiffening of the muscles of his jaw. He paid no attention whatever to these symptoms, not knowing their import and thinking at the time that it was merely a slight cold in his head.

Only a few days elapsed before he was compelled to call to his assistance Dr. J. B. Thompson, who, upon discovering the nature of his patient's disease, resorted to the usual remedies, of which chloral is an important ingredient.

The result of nearly all cases of lockjaw has been the death of the patient not later than eight days after the symptoms have developed. But in this instance Dr. Thompson has great hopes of the ultimate recovery of his patient, who has displayed remarkable vitality.

SEIZED WITH A SUDDEN SPASM. All the pain Falter experiences is from sudden spasmodic contractions of the muscles yet unaffected. These cause him to twist violently and during such paroxysms he displays unnatural strength. Otherwise he is in good physical condition, having a good appetite, sleeping well and conscious of what is going on. He firmly adheres to the belief that he will recover. He has no relations in this country and is being cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muth, with whom he boards in North South Carolina avenue and who are doing everything in their power to alleviate his sufferings.

Dr. Thompson bases his only hope of the recovery of his patient upon his sturdy frame and good health. He expresses the opinion that after the disease has run its full course of two weeks the chances of the recovery of his patient will be better. Until that time careful nursing and attention would be required to help nature in its work of combating the poison that permeates the system of the invalid.

BELLS ON THEIR GARTERS.

School Girls Adopt a Novel Method of Having Fun.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Nov. 20.—"Any girl found wearing bells on her garters will be dismissed."

This is the general order just issued in the Cape May public schools. The teachers have been annoyed for several weeks by the mysterious ringing of muffled bells, and search for the origin of the noise was fruitless. During class hours a score of the little bells would suddenly begin to tinkle and then there would be a general giggling.

One of the teachers who had been greatly annoyed by the interruption to study noticed that as a row of girls wriggled their feet the tinkling began. When they stopped the tinkling stopped too. The teacher connected the wriggling with the tinkling, and suddenly pointing on a very short frocked little miss, discovered how the thing was worked.

Some of the children had sleigh bells tied to their garters. Others of the bells ranged in size from a walnut almost up to a dinner bell.

CRAZY SPECULATION

Weeks a National Bank—Only $34 Found in the Cash Drawer.

MILFORD, Miss., Nov. 20.—State Bank Examiner Sherwood closed the Milford State Bank September 16, and reported that the bank had failed. The bank was established sixteen years ago as a national bank. The principal promoters were the Wilhelm brothers and relatives. The Wilhelms, young men, were known as "hustlers," and they went into all sorts of speculation. They and their relatives owned the controlling stock. The bank had deposits as high as $140,000. The morning after the bank examiner had taken charge there was only $34 in cash in the bank. The assets show $142,709, and the liabilities $132,693, but it is hard to see how the assets can be made to yield over $15,000. Worthless loans, crazy Kansas bonds, real estate, patent rights, speculations and poor personal paper, it is said, represent the balance.

DISASTROUS LAKE STORMS.

Shipping Interests Suffer Greatly—Many Schooners Wrecked.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—Reports from lake ports show that the recent storms have been disastrous to lake shipping. Early yesterday morning the schooner Ellen Severliden made an attempt to run into Grand Haven for shelter. In doing so, it struck the north pier, dismasting itself and went on the beach. It was bound for Ludington Light, with a crew of three men. The prompt arrival of the life saving crew saved the men after several hours of hard work. The vessel is a total wreck. Loss, $90,000; no insurance.

The dismantled schooner Scotia is lying at anchor riding out the gale about twelve miles above Goderich, Ontario, lying a signal of distress. Tugs made an unsuccessful attempt to reach her yesterday, but returned, being unable to stand the sea.

The schooner E. G. Benedict, bound for Buffalo, struck the bar in trying to make Port Stanley, Ont., yesterday, and went ashore east of the harbor. It now lies in about eight feet of water on a sandy bottom. Crew were all saved.

MOUNDSVILLE

A Miscellaneous Melange of Minor Matters from Marshall's Metropolis.

Thursday Messrs. S. W. Mathews, James Henretta, Joe Gray, James Mathews, W. N. Bonar and Mr. Pratt spent the day with Wm. Newt Cunningham, on Wayman's Ridge, hunting. Great preparation was made for the day and plenty of fine sport was expected. They had about twenty dogs and plenty of refreshments, but only succeeded in bagging one rabbit, one quail and one owl. S. W. Mathews killed the rabbit and Joe Gray the quail and owl.

County court was in special session Thursday and yesterday. The business transacted was mostly pertaining to roads. The court was notified by D. E. Evans, counsel for John Higgins, that the county was in possession of a strip of land, near the mouth of Big Grave creek, belonging to Mr. Higgins, and asked that the court take proper steps to pay him for the ground or have it condemned.

The entertainment by the J. O. U. A. M. Thursday night was a decided success. One of its most pleasing features was the music of the orchestra, composed of Misses Birdie and Irene Cockayne, violins, Miss Dora Cockayne flute, and Miss Salie Cockayne, cornet, Miss Birdie Hall, pianist.

BRIDGEPORT.

Current News Items from the old Town across the River.

The great inconvenience experienced recently by the failure of the electric lights has been due to taxing the plant too heavily. It was intended to supply power for lighting a portion of Martin's Ferry and the new river bridge, but several evenings ago the vibration of the bridge disconnected the wires in such a manner as to throw the lights all off. When this was adjusted the cold weather froze the water pipes and made it necessary to stop the engines, and so trouble has been arising on every hand.

It seems certain now that a bridge is to be built over the back river at once, and the enterprise if carried out as designed will be a very great benefit to this town in more than one way. The intention is to span the river by a modern steel bridge running from Howard street in Kirkwood to Oliver street on the island, and run an electric line over it, thence to the Wheeling creek mines.

The work of remodeling the First National Bank has been begun and is progressing nicely. The old front has been set back and work will be commenced on the new one at once and pushed as rapidly as possible.

Additional Evidence of the Wonderful Success Being Achieved by

DRS. COPELAND AND BELL.

"I had become discouraged and about given up all hope of ever being myself again, as my trouble had existed for over nine years, and I could not obtain any relief. I had tried a number of physicians and spent large sums of money, but only seemed to get worse instead of better."

MRS. WM. MEYER.

The speaker was Mrs. Wm. Meyer, who resides at No. 2201 Woods street, Wheeling. "I was about twelve years old when my catarrhal trouble first began," continued Mrs. Meyer. "My mother would stop my first one side and then the other. Severe headaches and pains in my temples every morning—so severe they affected my eyes that I could not see to read the newspapers until after these pains were gone. Drooping back of matter from my head into my throat, causing me to hawk and spit to clear my throat. I had no appetite and what little I did eat would lay on my stomach like a heavy weight, causing sour stomach after meals. The catarrhal trouble finally extended to my ears, causing almost total deafness for nine years. I became very sore and at times a thick, purulent discharge until the inside of my ear was one solid scab and so very painful I could not sleep with it at night. I was troubled with this terrible affliction for nine long years, spending vast sums of money without receiving any benefit. One specialist told me the drum of my ear was partially destroyed and I could never hear but little, if any, again. This discouraged me so much I almost gave up the idea of seeking further aid. But after reading the many cures being made by Drs. Copeland & Bell, I decided to visit their offices and give them a trial, and a pleasant visit it has been to me, for I steadily improved from the start, and in three weeks' time my ear was healed, my hearing restored, again—the first time in nine years."

"I feel proud to announce my case to the public, and to those who have suffered as I have done may now be benefited by these eminent specialists, whom I cheerfully recommend to the suffering humanity, as you will do well to consult them and be relieved."

The above statement can be easily verified by calling on Mrs. Meyer at her home, No. 2201 Woods street.
